1. On 10 July 1951, two roads were under construction southeast of Cheb. One road ran from the top of Mount Dylem (N 50/P 46), formerly Tillenberg, to Haj, (N 50/P 46), formerly Grafengruen, and the other one from V. Mohelno (N 50/P 46), formerly Neu Nagl, eastwards as far as the road leading from Haj to Slatina (N 50/P 45), formerly Lohaeuser. Civilian laborers and soldiers of border guard units were employed in the construction work. Lumbermen observed that heavy prime movers and road rollers were being used.
2. A telephone line led from the barracks installations near Oldrichov, (N 50/P 46), formerly Ulrichsgruen, to Dolni Zardov (N 51/P 46), formerly Unter-Sandau.
3. On 23 May 1951, troops demolished the village of Kozly (N 51/P 36), formerly Gosel, north of Oldrichov.
